AIRPLANES TO CROSS OCEAN

AMERICAN MACHINES MAY FLY TO EUROPE FOR CAMPAIGN OF NEXT YEAR.

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, June 21.—Big American airplanes and seaplanes should be flying across the Atlantic to reach the front by next summer, Major General W. Branner, of the British air ministry, said here today in a formal statement to the press. General Branner disclosed the fact that the British air council had definitely decided upon trans-Atlantic aircraft flights in order to find a route for American-made aircraft to the front. It is expected that the initial flight will be made this autumn in a machine of British make. It is estimated that the trip can be made in forty hours of flying, stopping at the Azores and Portugal before arriving in Ireland.

Bessie's Interpretation.
Little Bess, who is in the second grade, started her parents by insisting that her teacher was all the time calling for cigarettes. Her mother was so puzzled over this that they visited the school one afternoon to find out what the child meant by such a charge. In a little while the mystery was solved, for the teacher, glancing around the room, called out to the pupils: "Sit erect, sit erect!" Bessie looked at her mother and blurted out triumphantly: "There, mamma, didn't I tell you?"—New Haven Register.

Natural Butter.

Shea butter, the reddish oil of the West African shade tree, is one of several vegetable butters that are of unusual interest to makers of margarine, chocolate, candies, and soap. The sweet and wholesome pulp of the nut is much prized by the natives, and is said to be nearly two-thirds butter. The tree, beginning to bear its crop of nuts when about 15 years old, reaches its prime at the age of about twenty-five.

Oil on "Troubled Waters."

The experiment on a large scale on smoothing water by means of oil was first made at Peterhead, England, by John Shields, 36 years ago. A force pump with 1,200 feet of lead and iron pipe was used to throw the oil upon the waves at the harbor's mouth. Although the sea was running high it became smooth as soon as the pump began to "pour oil upon the troubled waters."

Nature's Forethought.

Animals that require great speed in securing their food or escaping their enemies, have no collarbones. The shoulders are fastened to the trunk by muscles. This prevents jarring after a long leap, or, in other words, if they had a collarbone, with the shoulder firmly fixed in it, there would be a tremendous shock when an animal came to the earth after leaping. Nature has looked after it in a common sense way.

Where Ancients Excelled.

Although tunneling is among the most ancient of enterprises, more progress has been made in the last century than in the twenty centuries which preceded it. It is now known that back in the semi-mythical days of the Theban kings the long tunnel into the mountain rock, expanding at a distance of 400 feet or so, into some lofty chamber, was a common work. The rock temples of Nubia and India, too, show that in certain matters at any rate moderns may still learn from the ancients.

MINOR RAIDS ON FRENCH FRONT

FRENCH IMPROVE POSITIONS. AMERICANS AND BRITISH IN TRENCH RAIDS.

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, June 21.—French troops last night carried out operations on the front southwest of Soissons resulting in improvement of their positions in the Favreilles neighborhood. A similar improvement was effected further south on this front near Hautvillers, the war office announced today.

British Raiding Operations.
London, July 21.—Further extensive raiding and patrol operations were carried out by the British last night in the Arras region and on the front south towards Albert. German attempts to regain ground won yesterday by the British near Morris, on the Flanders front were repulsed, according to the official statement today.

Old "Ohio Company."
The so-called "Ohio company" of early times was organized in Boston in 1786 for the purpose of buying government land and founding a settlement northwest of the Ohio river. In 1787 its agents contracted with congress for 1,500,000 acres of land and obtained an option for 5,000,000 acres. The company founded the town of Marietta, O., which became an early center of New England influence in the Northwest. The contract made by the Ohio company contained the first national land grant for a university.

English Is Bad Enough.
Why talk of the difficulty of pronouncing Polish, Austrian, Russian or Roumanian names when ninety-nine out of every hundred cannot pronounce scores and scores of English names? Just think of Bertie pronounced as Barty, Dilwyn as Dillon, Belcol as Beever, Featherstonhaugh as Festunhaw, Dalzell as Dee-el, Ruthven as Rivvan. And these are by no means the worst cases.—San Francisco Chronicle.

AUSTRIA NOW ON DEFENSIVE

ROLES REVERSED IN ATTEMPTED DRIVE IN ITALY. ITALIANS STRIKE BACK.

(By the Associated Press)
Austria's offensive in Italy apparently has resolved itself into a defensive movement both in the mountains and along the Piave line. While facing allied counter attacks on the fighting front, the Austrian government is being harassed in Vienna and elsewhere by popular outbreaks caused by food conditions. Spurred by successful resistance Italian troops are making repeated attacks against enemy positions west of the Piave and have gained some ground. In the mountains around Asiago, Franco-Italian troops have brought the total of Austrian prisoners up to 11,000. Sub-normal activity continues generally along the fronts in France and Belgium, the Americans apparently being the only troops busy and their operations have not been extensive. West of Montdidier they cleaned out the German trenches and some machine gun nests at Cantigny, taking a number of prisoners.

American Aviators Damage Bridge.
Italian Army Headquarters, June 21.—The first American aviators to operate on the Italian front went on a bombing expedition today and succeeded in blowing two holes in the new Austrian bridge across the Piave river.

Old Ways of Telling Time.
In remote ages the Japanese and Chinese used a knotted wick to record time, two feet in length. The wick burned slowly and each knot recorded an hour. Philip II of Spain is said to have used an oil lamp for the same purpose. The oil was contained in a glass receptacle, on which was a scale marking the hours from four in the afternoon to eight the next morning, and the height of the liquid upon the scale would show the time. A 12-inch candle, of which three inches would burn away in an hour, is supposed to have been used by King Al-

A Real Argument.
She is a little five-year-old girl in Ewing street. Of course she had violated a rule of the house and was about to be punished. "Now, papa, what are you going to whip me for?" she asked. "You see, I have already done what you told me not to do and I am sure I will never do it again, so it won't do any good to whip me." And now papa is wondering what will become of the child if her philosophy grows with her years.—Indianapolis News.

Natural "Water Barrel."
Perhaps the most notable specimen of self-watering plants is the so-called "water barrel" which, of about the size and shape of an ordinary beer keg, is in fact nothing more or less than a living water tank. Its whole interior is composed of storage cells so admirably arranged that the pulp which they form contains something like 98 per cent of pure water.

Suicide Statistics.
A study of suicide among wage earners in the United States by a life insurance company has brought out the fact that there are more suicides among men than among women, and fewer negroes seek death to end their troubles than white persons. The survey shows also that there has been a marked decrease in the death rate from suicide in the last few years.

On Peace-making.
For a nation to make peace only because it is tired of war, and as it were in order just to take breath, is in direct subversion of the end and object of the war which was its sole justification. It is like a poor wayward traveler getting up behind a coach that is going the contrary way to his.—Coleridge (in 1805.)

FENTEM IS COUNTY FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

Prof. A. L. Fentem has been appointed Fuel Administrator for Pontotoc County, succeeding W. D. Little, resigned. Mr. Little's resignation was made necessary as a result of his work as Executive Secretary to P. A. Norris, Fuel Administrator for the state, and also his work as secretary of the County Council of Defense.

Mr. Fentem has proved himself such a live worker in war activities in his handling of the labor for farm work that he is in strong demand in handling the war work here. His duties as county fuel administrator will take considerable time if the shortage of coal is as acute next winter as it was last. Reports from the state office here indicate that the shortage will be even more acute unless the coal consumers are fortunate enough to get in the coal this summer.

The fuel administration in the county already has an organization that is in working order. The administrators for the various towns are Hugo Hughes for Roff, L. M. Morris for Allen, L. M. Carpenter for Stonewall, J. E. King for Francis, C. W. White for Vanoss, and Dr. L. M. Overton for Fitzhugh.

GERMANS FLEE WHEN AMERICANS CHARGE

(By the Associated Press)
With the American Army in France, June 21.—At dawn this morning, American troops stormed nests in front of Cantigny in the Montdidier sector. Those of the German garrisons who remained to fight and carry out their orders to hold the positions at any cost were killed by rifle and machine gun fire and bayonets. The Americans also took prisoners.

Barrage Behind Germans.
The American artillery put down a heavy box barrage on the rear of the enemy positions. A few minutes later the infantry swarmed over the top and rushed the trenches. Some of the Germans had tried to escape through the barrage, crashing to their rear, but few of them got through, for numerous German dead were found later.

Prisoners captured declared that they had orders to hold on at all costs, and this was apparent by the desperate manner in which they fought.

The battle was short, but deadly, for the enemy positions were swept clean of Germans. The official report says that a great many Germans were killed.

One machine gun nest containing eight men, which had been sprinkling Cantigny for some days, was blown up by a direct hit from a trench mortar bomb.

In view of the official order of the Austrian government fixing the bread allowance at half a pound per week there can be no doubt about the seriousness of the food situation in that empire. Think of trying to live a week on that size chunk of bread! Hungry people are dangerous and the riots already started may soon sweep the emperor from his throne as was the case with Louis XVI in the French Revolution. This may prove the beginning of the end of the war.

The splendid record the Americans are making as fighters is putting a lot of pep into all the allies, as the Huns are finding out to their cost every time they attempt a move.

The allied hosts realize that it is up to them to hold the lines until the Americans are there in such force that the tables may be turned. The Italians are knocking the stuffing out of the Austrians every time a clash occurs and the fighting may be transferred to Austrian soil before the campaign closes, unless the Germans are able to send heavy reinforcements, which looks extremely doubtful if the drive in France is to be continued.

For once we agree with the kaiser. In a speech a few days ago he declared that the war is a struggle between his ideas of government and those held by the self-governing nations. It is really refreshing to hear the kaiser tell the truth occasionally. There is no question about this matter. The world cannot exist half free and half autocratic as it is today with autocracy constantly plotting the overthrow of free institutions and placing its heel upon the neck of democracy.

HOME INDUSTRIES.

Its industries are the life of any progressive community. No town can ever become a real city depending on its agricultural resources. No place can prosper where the money just passes from hand to hand and no more comes in from the outside. It is the mission of these enterprises to bring in money through the sale of their products and by expending it for labor and other things add to the circulating medium. For example during the three or four short years ago Ada fared better than the great majority of places as a result of this very fact of having some good pay rolls. Then it is the duty of the citizens of every community to support their industries and not get a reputation of being hostile to legitimate enterprises. As long as any industry plays fair with the public it should not be molested and harassed. A thorough investigation should always be made of both sides of any controversy before judgment is passed. If a community once gets a reputation of being hostile to the industries it already has, it will have hard sledding in getting any new ones.

"A Suit That's Good Till the War Is Over"

Tuesday morning a man walked into "The Man's Store" and asked to see some hot-weather clothes.

"I want a suit that'll be good for summer wear until the war is over," he said; "one that's good for this summer, next summer and, if necessary, the summer of 1920. This may be the last light-weight stuff I'll be able to buy, and I want one that's got the punch in it."

This man is one of our most discriminating customers, and after looking through he carried out a suit which, in his opinion, will measure up to his requirements.

We have a large line of keep-cool suits in a wide range of fabrics, styles and colors.

We guarantee these clothes to give satisfaction. If they don't make good bring them back—they're ours—the money is yours—let's both be fair.

SOLDIERS CARRY SIXTEEN BILLIONS OF INSURANCE

Washington, June 21.—More than $16,000,000,000 insurance on the lives of more than 1,800,000 soldiers and sailors already has been written by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. That is said to be more insurance, all written since the middle of last October, than is today on the books of the twenty largest life insurance companies in the world. All kinds of problems have been met in achieving this gigantic task, according to information furnished to Congress by Thomas B. Love, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of the bureau, and other officials.

The war risk provided for payment of family allowances and allotments and for administration of a compensation insurance law applicable to 2,000,000 risks and for the writing of this insurance on the lives of a possible 2,000,000 soldiers and sailors. The applications for allowances and allotments of the soldier's or sailor's pay had to be obtained from the ends of the earth to which those in war service have been scattered. From December 30 until the beginning of this month the bureau mailed out 2,300,000 individual checks to families of dependents in the United States, approximately $60,000,000 has been paid out in allowances and allotments; and in addition many thousands claims for compensation have been made, some paid and others disallowed.

More than 95 per cent of the soldiers and sailors listed at the bureau have taken the insurance and applications for it have come in at a daily rate involving from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 of insurance during the last month. A clerical force of about 4,300 people is employed by the bureau in the work. A bill is now pending in congress favorably reported by the house interstate commerce committee, amending the law in a number of details, providing for insurance that automatic insurance shall be payable to the mother, whether dependent or not, and to the father as well and making other broadening features in the interest of the soldier's nearest of kin.

Bureau records show that there are 1,062,091 application blanks returned on which the man states he has no dependents of any kind. There is a surprisingly large percentage of those men who do have dependents, the first knowledge of whom the bureau learns when the dependents write in for information.

One of the surprising developments is the number of complaints that the bureau is getting "from men who have asked exemption from their wives or who claim they have no wives." In one city recently Commissioner Nesbit, of the Bureau, has advised congress, "I recently sent an investigator to look into 33 cases where men had claimed exemption from their wives and said they did not know where the wives were living. The bureau located 31 of the 33 wives within a week and the government has absolute evidence that many of these men knew where their wives were. The men did not want the wives to get the money."

In course of the testimony recently given before the house committee Paymaster General Cowie, of the navy, declared that in the exceptional cases where naval officers do not support their families they are made to do so very quickly. About six weeks ago a wife called at the navy department about failure of support and "inside of fifteen minutes" said Admiral Cowie, "that gentleman had sent such a letter that he looked out for her in proper order and inside of three days I had an allotment in my office from him."

The war risk amendments are being handled on the floor of the House of Representatives Rayburn, of Texas, a member of the interstate commerce committee.

LIBERTY LOAN WORKERS REQUESTED TO AID

Muskogee, Okla., June 21.—(Special) Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has written to all Liberty Loan workers asking them to co-operate in the War Savings Stamp campaign which culminates with signed pledges on June 28—National War Savings Day. The letter follows:

"A greater number of individuals than ever before known, own government bonds as a result of your splendid work during the Third Liberty Loan Campaign.

The number of stockholders in the government should be still further increased through the sale of War Savings Stamps and the teaching of thrift and economy and the necessity for conserving labor and material should be continuous.

Friday, June 28 has been designated as National War Savings Day, when a special effort will be made throughout the Nation to secure pledges from every American to save and economize and to purchase War Savings Stamps.

I earnestly desire that Liberty Loan workers shall render all assistance possible to War Savings Committees in this campaign. The more thoroughly the necessity for individual saving and economy is brought home to the people of the nation, the easier will be our work in future Liberty Bond issues, the more quickly and adequately can the army and navy be equipped and the more certain will be the future welfare and prosperity of our people.

May I beg you to do everything in your power to enlist every American as a patriotic war saver and owner of war savings stamps?

Why We Fight

No. 5

Become Germany Menace the Freedom of the World and Russia Can no Longer Resist

By CLARENCE L. SPEED
Secretary of the War Committee of the Union League Club of Chicago.

We are in this war with Germany because it is a war for freedom more truly than ever before was a war fought for the liberty of man. In times past, it is true, men have fought for freedom from oppressors. Sometimes they have won and sometimes they have lost. But always there has been a place in this big world where those who had lost in the struggle at home might go and find a country where they might enjoy the liberty they loved.

Now all is different. If the forces which are fighting for freedom in this war are defeated, there will be no place in the whole world to which they may go to find a refuge from Prussian domination. Every land under the sun will be directly or indirectly under control of the victor; and if the victor is autocracy, freedom perishes.

The land where freedom is most imminently menaced by the legions of Prussian autocracy, at this moment, is the land where unwonted freedom temporarily has run riot and has lost the power to fight for itself—Russia. We are fighting for the freedom of Russia, and must continue to fight for it until Russia learns what freedom means, and is again able to fight. If we do not, freedom will die in Russia; Prussian autocracy will rule and exploit the country for its own benefit; and the very forces which overthrew the czar will be turned against the freedom not only of themselves, but of other lands.

In years gone by, when the forces of revolution were showing themselves here and there in Russia, they had the sympathy of America in spite of the methods of terrorism of which we did not approve. When the czar and the kaiser, leaders of autocracy, were locked in a death grapple, Russia still had our sympathy, because she was fighting on the side of those who were seeking to safeguard the world from Prussian militarism.

When the czar was deposed over night American feelings were mixed. There was joy at the downfall of an old, and sometimes cruel autocracy, but there was fear that Russia would become too disorganized to fight further, coupled with the thought that perhaps the revolution had come too soon to be effective.

Then followed the brief regime of Kerensky, when it began to look as though freedom in Russia might be an organized freedom, prepared to fight for its rights, and all America hailed the Russian revolution as a blessing. It had become absolutely correct to say that the war was a war of democracy against autocracy. No pro-German could longer point to the czar, whenever an argument arose.

Finally came the bolshevik revolution, in which Kerensky was overthrown. Russian industry and Russian society were disorganized, and Russian armies ceased to fight. The kaiser's armies pressed on unopposed, took what they desired in spite of a signed peace, and Russia appeared to be about to pass completely under control of Germany. America stood aghast at the prank freedom had played, and American opinion turned largely against Russia, but thinking men refused to give up hope. Russia was and still is incapable of offering resistance, but Russia is not resigned to autocracy. It evolves upon others to fight for the freedom Russia must have.

The experience of other nations has been that men who loved freedom were willing to fight for it, and to die for it if necessary. The Russian attitude of nonresistance was something new in the world, and is hard to understand. The bolshevik represented the extreme idea of liberty. To them freedom meant not the right of the majority to choose their form of government, but the right of the individual to be free from all forms of governmental restraint. They would tear down the old order completely, at one stroke, and set up the millennium. They would divide the land, the factories and the tools among the workers, and have no masters henceforth.

Even in Russia, however, there were dissenters. Some took up arms; and the bolsheviks, who fought the Germans not at all, fought their brothers most ferociously. The result was anarchy, lawlessness, massacre, the disorganization of the railways and the failure of the food supply. The millennium refused to come at the mere decree of the bolsheviks. It was shown that there must be organization and government of some sort.

Russia will not longer fight side by side with her former allies. So insidious has been the German propaganda that, in many instances, Russian hatred of the allies seems to be deeper than hatred of Germany.

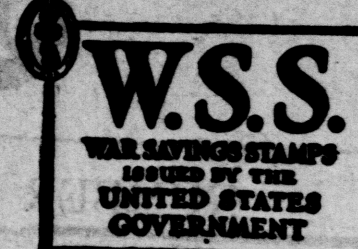

Therefore the United States cannot render direct aid to the struggling people of Russia. She cannot send them armies and supplies, for they have refused to do battle for themselves. To fight for Russia she must fight on the western front. She must do her share toward humbling the kaiser, and forcing him to relinquish his grasp on the East.

That is why we cannot talk peace with Germany as long as the kaiser has one single Russian province under his heel.

A Call to Every American

War Savings Stamps are a call to the thrift and patriotism of every American—a call that must be met by every man, woman and child who shares the blessings of this free country, if we are to carry on this war as a united people.

What They Are

War Savings Stamps are the most democratic form of government securities ever issued—a profitable, simple and secure investment backed by the entire resources of the government and people of the United States. They steadily increase in value from the date of purchase to the date of maturity—this increase is guaranteed by the government.

These stamps are issued in denominations of $5.00. Thrift Stamps 25 cents each.

The $5 War Savings Stamps

The $5 War Savings Stamp is a stamp for which the government will pay you $5 on January 1, 1923. Its cost to you if bought in February, 1918, is $4.13 (this cost increases one cent each month during 1918)—that is 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly.

Simple, Secure

You don't have to figure interest, nor clip coupons, nor worry about the safety of your loan; the certificates are not transferable, and behind them are the wealth and taxing power of the richest country ever known. You can get your money back, on 10 days' notice, any time you need it.

TRAGEDY OF PIONEER DAYS COMMEMORATED

(By the Associated Press) Truckee, Calif., June 21.—In massive bronze and stone, the achievements, sufferings and ultimate tragedy which overtook the Donner party of California pioneers were perpetuated recently when an imposing memorial was dedicated to the men and women of that indomitable band.

The Donner memorial group—man, woman and child, standing seventeen and one-half feet in height upon a pedestal twenty-two feet in height—is directly incident to one of the most remarkable tragedies in the history of California; but in a larger sense is designated to commemorate the heroic spirit of that great company who reached California by way of the plains during the late forties and the early fifties. Its historical significance lies in the fact that it marks the site where a party of nearly eighty-five emigrants known as the Donner party, were trapped in the early winter of 1846, resulting in unbelievable hardships and the death of over one-third.

An impressive program was arranged in which Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West from all parts of California participated. Gov. Williams D. Stephens of California was announced as the principal speaker of the day. The ceremonies attending the unveiling were held on a rise overlooking Donner lake, named for the pioneer party, and near whose shores it endured suffering and death.

The Donner memorial committee was appointed in 1908 at the meeting of the Grand Parlor in Yosemite Valley. Dr. C. W. Chapman of Nevada City was the originator of the idea and he was the first chairman of the committee. He has remained on the committee since its appointment.

The foundations of the monument were laid in 1910 and the cornerstone was laid June 10, during the grand Parlor session of the Native Sons at Lake Tahoe, Past Grand President Knowland presiding. The foundation construction is of solid concrete, 20 feet by 21 feet and six and one-half feet in depth. The cornerstone is of granite, three and one-half feet in cube.

The expedition had its inception near Springfield, Ill., in the spring of 1846 when George and Jacob Donner, brothers, both past sixty years of age and wealthy, decided to cross the plains to the then unknown California. George Donner had a young and talented wife—his third—named Tamsen, and three small daughters. At the start James F. Reed, likewise a man of wealth and prominence, was added to the party, together with his family and several employees. By some, Reed is credited with having been the actual organizer of the expedition.

These events transpired two years before the discovery of gold by Marshall and while California was still a province of Mexico.

Starting in early spring, the original company of thirty-two was augmented along the way until it comprised nearly 200 persons by the time Fort Hall, in what is now Wyoming, was reached.

At Fort Hall the train divided, a portion proceeding along the old Oregon trail and reaching California in safety by the northern route; the remainder, known henceforth as the Donner party, accepting the hazard of a new route, then barely blazed, leading by way of Great Salt Lake and the Humboldt and Truckee rivers virtually the route of the present Southern Pacific railroad, successor to the Old Central Pacific.

Delay and disaster attended every step of the way with the result that the end of October was near before the eastern foothills of the Sierra Nevada were reached.

At a point far out on the plains, Reed, probably the most energetic and resourceful of the emigrants, had been banished by order of one of the rude train courts of that period. In an altercation he had stabbed and killed a young blood of the party—justifiably, it was afterwards generally admitted. Being permitted a horse he made his way to Sutter's Fort and was able to play an important part in the subsequent rescuing efforts.

Within three days after entering the mountains on the 28th day of October, 1846, the emigrants were hopelessly snowed in. A camp was decided upon. A cabin built at Mountain now Donner Lake, two years previously by the Elisha Stevens party was utilized by two of the families, while rude huts were contrived to shelter the others.

Weeks before the train leaders had foreseen a probable shortage of food and sent mounted messengers ahead to ask aid of General Sutter. In response, Sutter sent two of his hardy Mexican-Indian retainers with small food supplies. These men remained with the imprisoned train and both perished.

Passing over the dreadful scenes of the long winter, when for weeks ordinary food was entirely lacking, it must be recounted that of the eighty-three persons who entered the snow trap, thirty-one died of starvation or exhaustion, either in the huts or in desperate attempts to reach the Sacramento Valley.

Meanwhile, some five or six expeditions were organized at Sutter's Fort or vicinity, led or prompted largely by Reed, to rescue the imperiled emigrants. Three succeeded in reaching the camp, arriving respectively on February 19th, March 1st, and March 15th, bringing small quantities of food and returning with such of the victims as could be moved.

A fourth party also reached Donner Lake April 20th, finding the death camp occupied by a single survivor—Lewis Keesburg. Keesburg was accused by all of the early historians of acting a gross part in the tragedy and even causing the death of Tamsen Donner following the death of her husband and while she was struggling to join her children at Sutter's Fort. This he denied and in later years he was exculpated, at least in part.

By order of General Kearny, the mutilated bodies of those who perished, which included both of the Donners, were gathered during the following June, placed in the Stevens Cabin, and the whole burned.

Most of the survivors remained in California, prospered and had part in the stirring events which followed the gold discovery. The three orphan daughters of George and Tamsen Donner found prospectors grew to womanhood and married. One of them, Mrs. Eliza F. Donner-Houghton, has written and published a book historical of the tragedy. John F. Reed was a prominent citizen of the Santa Clara Valley for a number of years.

The passage of seventy-one years since the Donner tragedy was enacted has reduced the number of survivors to a bare half dozen, five of whom are:

Mrs. Martha Lewis-Reed, Santa Cruz, Calif.

Mrs. Eliza F. Donner-Houghton, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Virginia C. Reed-Murphy, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Eletha C. Donner-Wilder, Elk Grove, Calif.

Mrs. Leama C. Donner-App, James town, Calif.

The dedication was held in connection with the annual meeting of the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West. Donner Parlor No. 162 of Truckee was in charge of the arrangements.

Rainbow Bridge.

A professional paper of the United States geological survey on the geology of the Navajo country describes, as perhaps the most striking erosion feature within that region, a recently discovered natural bridge, which has been named the Rainbow Bridge. It spans Bridge Canyon, on the northwest slope of Navajo mountain. Its symmetry and graceful proportions make it one of the finest natural bridges of the world.

It is an admirable idea to wrap good tools, such as drills, wrenches, etc., in oiled cloths before stowing them away in the tool compartment. The oiled cloths prevent the implements from becoming rusty, which is quite likely to happen in the course of a strenuous season's running.

MOST HUMAN ILLS TRACED BY SCIENCE TO COMMON CAUSE

Remarkable Demonstration of this Theory is Found in Dallas Woman's Case.

Science has discovered that most of the many ills that afflict humanity are traceable to a disordered condition of the stomach and intestines. Keep these organs healthy and active and you will remain strong, healthy and well, as nature intended you should be.

Then if you are a victim of stomach trouble, or any of the numerous disagreeable symptoms resulting from it, the experience of others in your own city or community who have testified to the benefits they have obtained from the use of Tanlac, should appeal very forcibly to you.

Among the many strong endorsements recently received is the following from Mrs. Josephine Harman, a highly esteemed elderly lady residing at 2421 Ferris street, Dallas, Texas, who says:

"I am feeling much better in every way than I have in years and it's all because of what Tanlac has done for me. Before I began taking it, I couldn't eat anything but what my stomach would fill up with gas and cause me all kinds of misery. My appetite was so poor I seldom wanted anything to eat and I had severe headaches and pains in the back of my neck much of the time. I also had rheumatism so bad in my feet and ankles at times I could hardly get about. My kidneys bothered me great deal and the small of my back hurt me so I could hardly bend over. In fact, I was in an awful fix and while I doctored and tried many different medicines nothing seemed to help me.

"I kept reading and hearing so much about Tanlac that I decided to try it and I can see now I made a mistake in not getting it before. My appetite picked up and I began to rest better at night right away. So I kept on taking Tanlac and improving right along until now I can eat anything and enjoy it, and all my pains and other distressing feelings are gone. I sleep fine now, get up in the mornings feeling good and it's been a long time since I slept well before. Tanlac has made me feel a whole lot younger and I can do all my housework and feel strong enough to do more. I'm telling everybody how well I feel since taking Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Company, and by leading druggists and dealers everywhere.

CAN KAISER MAKE GOOD HIS THREAT?

Muskogee, Okla., June 21.—(Special)—"I'll be in Paris June 28," says the kaiser and the Oklahoma War Savings Committee asks this question.

"Where will you be?" June 28th is National War Savings Day in America and the kaiser's threat has brought forth an urgent appeal to the people of Oklahoma.

The appeal follows: "The person who refuses to sign the War Savings Pledge will go on record as being unwilling to help keep the kaiser from making good his threat to be in Paris, June 28th. That person will go on record as refusing to stand back of our army and navy at a time when the cause of humanity is depending on the strictest efforts of every man and woman in America. Such a person, regardless of his intentions, will find that his loyalty will be questioned, because in refusing to sign the pledge to save and to economize he will be disobeying the mandate of the president. It is unthinkable, when the welfare and safety of our heroic soldiers and those of our allies are depending on the support which is expected from those at home, that there is one loyal man or woman who will refuse to sign the W. S. S. Pledge.

"The public will listen with scant patience to the person who claims that he cannot afford to sign a pledge that he utters the thoughtless statement that there are too many campaigns. The public will not tolerate these two attitudes. There is no man or woman in Oklahoma who cannot invest at least $20.00 and the great majority can invest considerable more in War Savings Stamps. Each individual will be expected to pledge the maximum amount he or she can save during the year. As far as campaigns are concerned, until the monstrous German power which planned and precipitated the most dreadful war which has ever scourged the earth, is shattered, there cannot be too many campaigns! Until we have rid the world of the curse of German lust for power, we can expect and must welcome campaign after campaign for the cause of victory.

"And because the W. S. S. Campaign is a test of loyalty we know that every person in Oklahoma will respond—will proudly enlist in the army of savers which President Wilson has called for—will sign the pledge cheerfully and gladly, with a feeling of deep gratitude that in this way we can partially requite the heroic sacrifices which our fighting men are making."

THE ICE QUESTION

It has come to my attention that that statement was made in the News yesterday that the Food Administrator, Judge Ames, has made an order reducing the price of ice. This is not exactly correct. Judge Ames heard the evidence and stated that, in his opinion, the 80c ice should be reduced to 60c but that the loss thereby sustained to the Company should be made up by increasing the price of ice on the lower part of the schedule, but no order was made. He further said that he would refer the entire matter to the Chairman of the County Council of Defense, the Mayor of the City of Ada and the County Food Administrator and whatever these officials ordered he would approve. He further stated that whatever order might be made should go into effect not later than Sunday night and indicated that refunds should be made for ice used thereafter, if paid for at the higher price, on books then out. The older citizens of Ada will recall that the Ice Plant was built by Mr. R. L. Woodhouse at a very early date and operated by him until he demonstrated the fact that it was nothing but a money loser. Thereafter, he sold the enterprise to Mann Bros. who operated it one year, and making an absolute failure, they allowed the plant to stand idle through one season, then the present Company acquired the property and spent large sums of money on it and operated it without one cent of dividends from that time until the end of 1916. However, during the year 1917 the Company made the magnificent sum of $4,500.00 by counting the earnings of the Ice Cream Plant and figuring a very small depreciation on the property. This is the sum total of the earnings of this plant from the time it was established. This, however, left the finances of the Company in such a depleted condition that it was immediately necessary for the Company to borrow $2,500.00 to make repairs for the present season's operations. For the purpose of this year's operations the Company made an estimate of its increased cost of operation and delivery of ice, based on last year's expense of operation and last year's output, and they found that the increased expense of operation this year, over that of last year, will amount to $11,930.86. This increased cost of operations would soon dispose of the little $4,500.00 of earnings of last year and of the increased price also which has been placed on ice by the Company. This estimated increase of cost of production and distribution of ice was gone over very carefully by the Food Administrator, item by item, and none of them found to be excessive, but, on the contrary, most items were found to be too low. This means that the Company, at the present prices, cannot make a dollar be reduced, the Company cannot afford a heavy loss and a loss can result only in suspended operations, because no concern can go if it cannot make expenses. The people of Ada should remember that the present Company has more than doubled the output of this plant and as a result has sold ice at wholesale to the nearby towns and to the railroads passing through the City and have thereby brought considerable sums of money into Ada to be expended, which, under other circumstances, would have gone elsewhere. This has given employment to the citizens of Ada and has redounded to the general welfare of the City and at the same time reduced the price of ice to the citizens of Ada. It will be recalled that when the increased capacity of the plant was made, the Company voluntarily reduced the price of ice to the citizens of Ada.

By far the greater part of the cost of ice when sold in small quantities is the cost of delivery. 100 lbs. of ice sold in small lots of 12 1-2 lbs. requires the man on the wagon to visit eight ice boxes. Considering that a man, wagon and team are worth $6.00 to $7.00 per day, and considering that the people of Ada have always required the delivery of their ice in the forenoon, it plainly appears that a man and team making deliveries of these small quantities of ice will not put out more than ice enough to pay for delivery, to say nothing of the cost of the production of ice.

It ought to be remembered by every thoughtful citizen that labor is high, scarce, and in a measure unreliable, as compared with former times. It is just as impossible for the Ice Company to overcome these conditions as it is for any other industrial enterprise to overcome them. The present high prices of labor and material of every kind are and have been recognized in relation to all branches of industry, except the ice industry. Even the government itself has taken over the railroads and after the 25th of this month, the freight rates, by government order, will be 100 per cent higher in Oklahoma than they were six months ago. The same conditions affect the ice industry as affect the transportation business. These are only a few of the things that show conclusively that the price fixed by the Company for ice was not only not high, but, on the contrary, very low.

In addition to all these things, believe that it ought to be borne in mind that Mr. Frick, the Manager of the Ice Company, has at all times shown himself to be an upright, honorable, public spirited citizen and a town booster. It is well within the memory of all thinking people of the City of Ada that he has devoted the major portion of his time for the last two years to the public welfare and has rendered distinguished and valuable services to the City of Ada and has been instrumental, if not largely responsible, for the bringing to Ada of many of its enterprises. It is very discouraging, not only to him but to his friends, in any attempt to bring new enterprises to the City of Ada, when any number of citizens show a disposition to stifle and destroy legitimate and needful enterprises already located here. It is a well known fact that constant nagging and deliberate, cool and calculating interference with the successful operation of industrial enterprises caused the recent retirement of Mr. A. L. Beck and his associates, which is still a source of much chagrin to the thinking people of Ada, and this is just one case in point. The question now confronting us is whether or not we shall put the penalties on the eyes of the few industrial enterprises which remain within the limits of our City. The hearing on this matter will be resumed, probably at the office of Mr.

P. A. Norris, Chairman of the County Council of Defense, sometime during the day Saturday, June 22nd, at which time any citizen of Ada, who desires to contribute to the destruction of another Ada enterprise and to the removal from our midst of another plucky, boosting fellow citizen, will have an opportunity to do so. Personally, I am paying five cents a day more for my ice than I paid a year ago and I am likewise paying five cents a quart more for the milk which that ice keeps cool than I paid a year ago, and I am not kicking at either raise, because the conditions and times justify both. Trusting that every citizen will give this matter full consideration and act for the best interests of the City of Ada, I am, Yours very truly,

J. F. McKEEL.

DECISION OF JUDGE AMES ON ICE QUESTION

This matter was heard on Thursday, June 20th, the company being represented by Mr. Frick, manager, Mr. McKeel, his attorney. The public was represented by Mr. Wimble and the City Attorney of Ada. It developed that last year the company's prices were as follows: Butchers, 300 lb. lots 35c Soft drink places, 50 lb. min. 40c Domestic consumption, 50 lb. min 50c Less than 50 lbs. 60c Carload lots, per ton $4.00 The schedule installed this year on the foregoing items is 40c, 50c, 60c, less than 50 lbs, 70c; less than 25 lbs. 80c; carload lots $4.50. My decision was that 60c should be the maximum, and that the price in Ada should range between 40 cents and 60 cents, the details to be worked out by a committee consisting of the mayor, the chairman of the council of defense, and the county food administrator, in connection with the ice company, the rate hearing held being that if the new schedule is prepared and installed by next Monday morning no refund should be required, but if not, refund should be required from the close of today's (June 20th) business.

C. R. AMES,
State Food Administrator.

TO ICE CONSUMERS

The undersigned, Mr. Dean, representing the City Council and Mr. Wimble, the citizens, appeared before Judge Ames, State Food Administrator, at the rate hearing held in Oklahoma City, June 20th. Judge Ames by oral order fixed the price of ice to consumers in Ada at a maximum of sixty cents and a minimum of forty cents per hundred, the details to be determined upon by a committee consisting of the Mayor, City Food Administrator and the Chairman of the County Council of Defense.

THRESHING PRICE WILL BE SET

FOOD ADMINISTRATION AND THE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE TO HOLD HEARING TOMORROW.

A meeting of the threshermen and the farmers of this county has been called for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the court house by Joe Holden, County Food Administrator, and the County Council of Defense. The object of the meeting is to agree upon the price the threshermen shall charge for threshing wheat and oats. The Food Administration is in receipt of the following telegram: Oklahoma City, Ok., June 19.

Orel Busby, Ada, Okla. In conference with Aydelotte relative to the price of threshing. Considerable objection has been raised to the price recommended last Saturday. We have concluded that the wise thing to do is to have a meeting in your county of threshermen and farmers on Saturday, June 2nd at which time a fair price can be agreed upon. Whatever is agreed upon will be approved by Aydelotte and my me. In meantime arrange to start all threshing machines with understanding that the price agreed upon next Saturday will apply. Please show this telegram to chairman of county council of defense and ask him to treat it as a message from Aydelotte and act with him in arranging the meetings. JUNE 28

ADA PASTOR NOW RED CROSS WORKER

Rev. C. B. James, pastor of the First Christian church of Ada, is now a volunteer worker at the Red Cross headquarters and is learning to make bandages as rapidly as any of the ladies. Mrs. Sned, the secretary, says there is room for other men, if they care to help. There is much to do and none too many workers. JUNE 28
